HISTORIC RESTORATIONS & TIMBER FRAMING

With traditional and one-of-a-kind projects, timber frame structures are unmatched in their versatility. Whether you will be living there, using it as a recreational space, sheltering animals or protecting machinery, Work Horse will dedicate the same level of care and attention.

FUN FACT: Originally built in the 1800's and lived in until the 1970's, this cabin was located in a valley outside of Augusta, Missouri. In 2018 Work Horse acquired the cabin from a local family. Log by log, Work Horse deconstructed the cabin and moved it to our headquarters in New Melle, Missouri. The majority of the cabin was refurbished to its original state and is used today as the owner's office and meeting space. (pictured below)

TRUSTED BY THE COMMUNITY

"Our enjoyment with the house and Brock's team was so genuine we would recommend them to anybody. Work Horse Construction sets themselves apart from other companies because they take as much pride in the work that they do, as you do in your home. The communication we had with Work Horse was paramount. We knew what we wanted and they were able to deliver exactly that. There were no surprises, we were always up to date on the construction process. Over time you begin to build a real connection with everyone, no matter what their role is. I trusted them to do everything right, and in the end, our home was done to perfection. We are so happy with the quality of the house, we couldn't be happier."
